Dear Director of Laboratories:

We are excited to bring you Cargotester.com, an online LIMS subscription software system. If you've never had a LIMS system or if you are interested in upgrading your existing LIMS system, now is the time to consider Cargotester.com. We offer a low-cost way to keep track of laboratory work-flow information with all the latest Internet advances. Products, samples, procedures, specifications, results, QA/QC, client/contact information, personnel, dispatching, certificates of analysis, they are all right here in one package available anywhere you have an Internet connection.

Our wireless pocket-pc pages give you data-entry access to your information from the field. Our custom reports let you format your results according to client requirements. Our data export features allow you to connect with existing in-house software. Our online document storage allows you to trade electronic documents with others; and so much more...

Since Cargotester.com is a shared online application, you only pay a user-based monthly subscription fee and for any custom reports, training or custom software modules (prices vary) ordered. No installation required, just use your standard browser software and Internet connection to access.

To see how Cargotester.com can service your needs, we invite you to call to schedule a demonstration from our sales staff at (908) 275-0107. You can also register for a demo online at www.cargotester.com.
